- Location: University of Washington School of Medicine South Lake Union Laboratory
Seattle, Washington
- Topic: Process Driven Design
- 9:30 – 10:00 Registration and Networking
- 10:00 – 12:00 Lean Clinic Simulation Workshop
This session is a hands-on, interactive exercise where the patient flow through a clinic is simulated for several work shifts. After each abbreviated shift, the participants reflect on their outcomes and implement a change to try and improve the outcomes using the philosophies of the Toyota Production System. Attendees will be working in groups of 8 for this interactive session.
Presenter: Roger Call, Herman Miller, Dr. Russell Migita Seattle Children's Hospital
- 12:00 – 12:45 Lunch
- 12:45 – 1:00 Announcements and updates from Oregon and Washington Departments of Health
- 1:00 – 2:00 Lean Six Sigma Process Improvement
Used for decades in manufacturing to streamline processes and reduce the number of defects, this methodology is steadily growing in popularity among healthcare organizations. Lean Six Sigma has transformed process improvement in healthcare due to its broad applications and its proven ability to reduce process waste and improve the quality of clinical care. The basic principles of Lean Six Sigma and examples of its application in healthcare will be presented.
Presenter: Manuel Ortiz, Lean Six Sigma Black Belt, Providence Health & Services
